GENDER EQUITY

about US

The Women's Center at UTC first opened its doors in October 2008. Since its creation, the Women's Center has become a strong community of students and community members dedicated to principles of social justice and gender equity. In 2017 the Center was renamed the Center for Women and Gender Equity to recognize the programming for LGBTQ+ students and work around masculinities.

The Center for Women and Gender Equity at UTC is committed to creating a community of diverse and empowered students through the following core values:

AWARENESS Educating our community on gender and social injustices. ACTIVISM/ADVOCACY Engaging our community in addressing issues of gender equity and social justice. COLLABORATION Facilitating education and activists' efforts in our community by supporting other social justice organizations and causes. LEADERSHIP Developing and empowering students to engage in ethical behavior based on feminist principles of leadership. COMMUNITY Creating a community of acceptance and celebration of diversity.

Spectrum

Spectrum—UTC's Queer Collective works to foster a safe, positive community of acceptance that supports people of marginalized orientations and identities.

Survivor Advocacy Services

Housed in the Center for Women and Gender Equity, Survivor Advocacy Services addresses issues of gender-based violence (sexual violence, relationship violence and stalking) on the UTC campus. We provide both education to the campus community and advocacy to all students, staff and faculty.

Education

We produce education through awareness programs related to gender-based violence and in collaboration with campus and community partners.

Advocacy

Services to survivors include accompaniment for: police interviews, court appearances and judicial hearings. We also offer referrals to campus and community resources and additional support for survivors on campus. Survivor Advocacy Services are free and provide limited confidential advocacy.

CASE

The Coalition Advocating for Student Empowerment (CASE) is the executive student leadership board, which creates and organizes programs for the Center for Women and Gender Equity. There are currently six chair positions around the following topics:

- Leadership
- Diversity and Intersectionality
- Gender-Based Violence
